A true Chronicle of 20th Century Mental Health, and Social History:

Care in Asylum hospitals & sanctuaries. Barone Hopper's new title provides the underlying framework for his well received initial volume on the social and medical history of mental health in Sussex, and the

UK, from the late 19th until the early 21st century. This comprehensive collection of written records and photographs – compiled by the author during a working lifetime among staff, patients and their families, both in hospitals and the community at large – is presented in three distinct parts:

- Detailed abstracts covering more than a century of care at Graylingwell long stay hospital in Chichester, and in the community.
- Focusing on Graylingwell, a rich archive of essential paperwork, photographs and other material relating to evolving patterns of care.
- A wide-ranging survey of the treatment of the mentally vulnerable, from the 11th century until recent times, and including not only asylums and long-stay hospitals, but almshouses, smallpox hospitals, sanitoriums, workhouses, poor houses and pest houses.

Optional 30min Documentary, from 1997, also available.
